 - ITALIC TAG IN HTML

- The  tag used to italicize the text content.

-  tag belongs to Flow content, phrasing content, palpable content.

- The  tag supports Global Attributes and Event Attributes.

Syntax for  tag in HTML:

 Content

Differences between HTML 4.01 and HTML5 for  tag in HTML:

HTML 4.0.1

- The  tag was used to extract the text in italics in HTML4.

HTML5

- The  tag is not essential for HTML5 version.

Sample coding for  tag in HTML:

```
<!DOCTYPE html>
  <html>
      <body>

            Learn to Code in Wikitechy
            Teach people how different technologies are organized

            Covers a variety of topics
            Ranging from advanced beginners to skill levels.

      </body>
  </html>
```
Code Explanation for tag in HTML:

```
<!DOCTYPE html>
<html>
  <body>
            ──▶  1
  2 ◀──  Learn to Code in Wikitechy
         Teach people how different technologies are organized

         Covers a variety of topics
         Ranging from beginners to advanced skill levels.

  </body>
</html>
```

1.  tag is used to display content inside the paragraph tag.

2. The text inside the  tag will be displayed in italicized text.

Output of  tag in HTML:

1. The words "Learn, Teach, Covers & Ranging" was in italic form which is displayed in the output.

Browser Support for  tag in HTML:

Browser	Language attribute
Chrome	Yes
Internet explorer / Edge	Yes
Firefox	Yes
Safari	Yes
Opera	Yes